

Request for Thesis/Dissertation Embargo

Embargoing a thesis or dissertation is the delayed release or delayed availability of scholarly work due to patents pending, sensitive data, or pending publication. The embargo form must be completed by the student author and their thesis/dissertation advisor and submitted to designated archivists in Swem Library's Special Collections Research Center. VIMS School of Marine Science students should also submit a copy of the form to Hargis Library.

Thesis/dissertation title: _____

Student (Printed): _____

Advisor (Printed): _____

Date to be released (from date signed): 6 months 1 year 2 years Other: _____

Reason for embargo: _____

Select all that apply:

- Text only will be withheld from the public
- Title, Abstract, and Text will be withheld from the public
- Embargo applies to electronic version in W&M Digital Archive
- Embargo applies to paper version in Swem Library or Hargis Library

We understand that the thesis/dissertation and any associated description will remain in the Swem Library (and Hargis Library, if applicable) until the date listed above. At the end of the embargo period, the thesis/dissertation will be available to researchers without restriction according to the access and use policies of the library. It is the responsibility of the student or advisor to extend the hold date, if needed. Requests to extend an embargo should be received in writing at least 30 days before the expiration of the embargo.

Student Signature Date

Advisor Signature Date

Note for dissertation authors: Your decision to embargo access to your dissertation in the W&M Digital Archive does not apply to ProQuest/UMI. You must submit a separate request to ProQuest/UMI to embargo or delay release of your dissertation in that database.

Received by Swem Library Special Collections Research Center: Staff & Date